A WORD FROM OUR BOARD

Did you know behind the staff you see every day, there is a hard working group of volunteers serving as the board of Players of the Stage? They are the backbone and support this beautiful organization needs in order to stay afloat. Each month during this 25th year, we'd like you to hear from them about their relationship with POTS and why they do what they do.

MARCH BOARD MEMBER FOCUS: KELLY VAUGHN

My name is Kelly Vaughn. I have been a Players of the Stage mom for over 10 years and recently, I have had the privilege of joining the board. I joined because POTS has been a huge gift to our family, and I wanted to do what I could to ensure it would continue to exist to be the same for other families. Have you ever had something that you could point to in your child's life and say that made a real and lasting difference? This was POTS for us. Our oldest daughter, Grace, struggled in some ways that brought us to the end of what we could do to help her. We have been so blessed by God's provision of POTS. Through POTS, Grace was challenged to face her fears in new ways, surrounded by staff who loved her and loved the Lord. We can't thank the Lord enough for how He has used POTS in her life to grow her and challenge her.

Our son, Robbie, started doing POTS when we forced him to try out for a show because they were low on male actors. He really didn't want to do it! But now he credits POTS for helping him turn a corner from a very shy and insecure boy to a young man who is comfortable in his own skin. He would tell you that POTS is what gave him the safe and accepting atmosphere to grow in his confidence as a young man. And our daughter, Avery, has made many strong friendships and appreciates the opportunity to feel a part of a community and grow in her acting skills.

This has been our family's story, and we have heard this story over and over again. We know so many others for whom POTS has been a God-send. And we pray that God will continue to use this ministry to impact lives in the future.
